

Dear Friends in Christ!

I have received a lot of thanks and quite a bit of positive feedback for the little "Friendly Reminder™®" last week about our parish dress code.

The reasons for the dress code are two-fold. The first reason is obviously out of respect for Almighty God and the holiness of His house. If you went to some great banquet with the President and the Pope and other important people you would dress up--you certainly would not go dressed like a slob.

Yet the truth is that we are attending here a far greater banquet with far more important people: God and all the angels and all the saints!

The second reason for the dress code is CHARITY TOWARDS OTHERS. I do not want to be a source of distraction to others at Holy Mass because of the immodest/revealing way that I am dressed.

I would not hold out and swirl around a drink right under the nose of a recovering alcoholic. That would be almost cruel and a great source of temptation to our poor recovering alcoholic.

Well, the truth is that half of the people in the world are "recovering males." So please, out of charity!, do not become a source of distraction, temptation, and sin by your immodest way of dressing.

Seriously, to everyone, thank you for your cooperation in always comporting yourself with due decorum in a manner worthy of the house of God.

All that said, again the dress code (the same that Pope Francis uses at St. Peter's Basilica) is that women have covered shoulders with nothing whatsoever showing of cleavage and no exposed midriiffs. Skirts or pants go BELOW the knees. Not to the knees, BELOW the knees.

And gentlemen do not wear shorts or tank-tops or anything of the sort to the house of God. They wear pants and a nice shirt.

Indeed, to church, Christians wear their "Sunday Best" out of respect to God and out of charity to everyone else.

God bless you all and have a wonderful week!!! :-D

CHURCH MINISTRIES

If you are involved in any ministry such as: Sacristans, Extraordinary Ministers of Holy Communion, Extraordinary Ministers of Holy Communion to the Homebound, Altar Servers, Lectors, Church Cleaning & Altar Linens; we are no longer mailing out schedules. We have decided to do this to save our parish the cost of postage. The schedules are posted in the Parish School on the bulletin board, in our bulletin, and they are also available on our website www.sacredheartclovis.com. We are doing a mass mailing of schedules by email. If you have not received your schedule, please call the parish office and give us your email address so we may enter it into our database and we can email you the current schedule.

Thank you!
